

We would like to acknowledge the invaluable support of a number of individuals and organisations...

Catherine Moncrieff, for donating some of the proceeds of her charity tennis tournament,

David Tennant, for encouraging what proved to be a successful application for funding to The Jackson Foundation,

Mary-Anne Matthews, for her interest and for spreading the word,

Nicola Hasseler, for her coverage on Charles and African Promise for the BBC South-East television news,

Andy Garland, for his interview of Charles broadcast on the BBC Radio Kent breakfast show,

3 Monkeys Communications and Microsoft, for a new laptop,

Zoe Belhomme, for putting Charles forward as an entrant in the Microsoft Life Academy competition,

David Graham, Trustee of The AV Foundation, for his unwavering support and interest,

David Smith, Pip Smith and the rest of the Africa & Asia Venture team for continually promoting African Promise,

Rupert Wilkinson, for raising funds and awareness through a cycle around France,

Kat Coldman, for running further in one go than she ever has before at the Edinburgh Meadows half marathon in aid of African Promise,

Peter Teuten, and friends, for all their hard work in setting up a sister charity, Kids4Kenya, in Baltimore, America,

Liz Crawford, for continuing to think of us after volunteering in Kenya and for her (and her mums) fundraising efforts,

John Whiter, for examining our inaugural set of accounts at no charge,

Lexi Galanis and Will Hofman, for choosing to support African Promise at the Tonbridge School Charity Day, raising many hundreds of pounds in the process,

Chloe Kingham, Maude Harris, Louisa Hunter, Caz Chadd & Sarah Viner, for organising two incredible 'Out of Africa' fundraising events,

Alex Elviss, for running the 'Run to the Beat' half marathon in aid of African Promise
